

POLICY
Retirement age

1. When a person reaches the age of 65, this is regarded as the age of retirement.
2. A person may remain in the employ of Congregation until the end of the calendar year in which he/she turns 65.
3. The line manager of an employee may extend, on an annual basis, the contract of a person who has reached retirement age.
4. Every October the line manager will hold a discussion with the employee, in which the employee will be informed whether or not the contract will be entered into again for the following year.

.....
Management

.....
Management